President's Corner by Ravi Veeraswamy, MD

We are gearing up for VESS 2023 in Whistler, Canada. GET THOSE PASSPORTS READY!!! As the weather turns colder and we dream of snow - it's a great time to check in on the many things VESS has done since the summer. Dan Han, Max Wohlauer and other VESS leaders were critical in supporting the first-ever national Vascular Surgery Interest Group (VSIG) interest group meet. They hosted an enthusiastic group of medical students and continue to foster them in collaborative, multi-institutional projects. This is a huge step forward for our specialty and introducing it to the brightest students across the country.

We also hosted the 3rd Annual VESS Virtual Residency Fair. Starting with a panel discussion and continuing on to individual program rooms it was again a tremendous success. 39 programs and 104 students participated and shared information in what has become the unofficial launch of the MATCH season. (See full recap inside).

Our winter program is set and can be found within the newsletter. A robust offering of scientific sessions and many programs throughout the day for skiers and non-skiers alike. We received over 220 submissions and the quality of the abstracts selected was truly impressive. Many thanks to Dr. Jeanie Ruddy and the Winter Program Committee for their hard work.

We have a great meeting planned with science, snow and a super deluxe President's dinner on Saturday night with great food, live music and...Karaoke...that's right- Karaoke. So get your science, snow-gear and singing voice tuned up and see you in Whistler!

VESS 3rd Annual Virtual Residency Fair

On Tuesday, September 20, 2022, the VESS hosted its 3rd Annual Virtual Residency Fair. This event was established two years ago by Dr. Matthew Smeds to facilitate communication between medical students, program directors, faculty and residents from around the country during the pandemic. Feedback from medical students was overwhelmingly positive.

The VESS thanks the 104 medical students who attended the event. You are the future of our specialty. We also acknowledge the program coordinators, program directors, and surgeons representing 39 residency programs around the country for your generosity of time and unwavering commitment to student education.

Ravi Veeraswamy, MD (President VESS), kicked off the meeting, welcoming the medical students to the program, and introduced Ryan Gedney, MD (PGY3) Medical University of South Carolina, who delivered a high-yield talk, titled: "Top 10 Things to Consider when Choosing a Residency".

After that, Blake Murphy, MD (PGY2) University of Washington engaged the audience with a succinct presentation, filled with useful advice: "How to Prepare for a Virtual Interview."

Next, Panelists Kathryn DiLosa, MD (PGY4) University of California Davis, Blake Murphy, MD (PGY2) University of Washington, Christopher Audu, MD (Clinical 4/PGY 5/6) University of Michigan, Alexandra Gobble, MD (PGY3) The Ohio State University, and Charles DeCarlo, MD (PGY5) Massachusetts General Hospital fielded questions from the audience about the Match, with topics ranging from choosing what to wear for the interview, how to follow up with programs afterward, and how influential performing a sub-I is in determining where you match. The panel discussion was moderated by Max Wohlauer, MD, Chair of the Student Education Committee.

Please encourage medical students to apply for the Next Generation Student Mentor Program at the 2023 Annual Winter Meeting in Whistler, BC. The Next Generation Student Mentor Program is truly an investment in the future of our specialty by empowering the next generation of medical students to experience the clinical challenges, technological innovation, translational research, and fellowship that defines our important specialty. It requires a collaborative effort between medical schools, individual vascular surgeons, vascular societies like VESS, vascular surgical leadership, and industry partners alike to successfully recruit this country's "best and brightest" to our specialty.

VESS Spotlight on Award Winner

Each year, the VESS awards a Travel Grant, an Early Career Investigator Award and a Resident Research Grant. Here, we catch up with previous awardees to find out how they used their funds and what impact the award had on their career. We hope this inspires members to apply for VESS grants and continue the tradition of high achievement that the VESS is proud to support. For more information on how to apply, visit <http://vesurgery.org/grants-awards>.

Andrea Obi, MD
Assistant Professor of Surgery
University of Michigan
Ann Arbor, MI

I used the VESS career development grant to study monocyte epigenetic changes during the process of thrombosis. This was invaluable experience for myself and my lab: we used this skillset to acquire significant preliminary data to identify one enzyme that then became the subject of my K08 award.

Interestingly, this knowledge really became important during the COVID pandemic, when we found out that this molecule acted as a master switch to control the monocyte's role in driving Covid coagulopathy. This resulted in us winning the designation as Lefkofsky Scholar lab and $100,000 award to complement this research, and was a finalist for the Jay Coffman Research Award at the Society of Vascular Medicine.

My best advice is to find a mentor or a peer who has been successful to identify strategies and read copies of old grants to set the right framework for the type and intensity of work you need to do to get funded.

My second piece of advice is just to start writing. That is the hardest part! The VESS award was instrumental in helping me get the preliminary data for my K award and also provided some credibility to me as a young investigator on my application.

VESS has tons to offer the young surgeon! There are a young, mid and senior level surgeons from all backgrounds with all types of research. It is a welcoming and tight knit community so the chances are high that you will find someone who can help you or would want to collaborate with you!
